2018

COMPLETE GUIDANCE
PROGRAM

15th September, 2017

GOAL

The goal of the ForumIAS 2018 Offline Program is to aid students in building rich and fresh content, covering the entire syllabus and consolidating one's preparation for the Civil Services Prelims and Mains Examination.

This, we plan to achieve, by regular test taking, answer writing and notes making in a focussed classroom environment, aided by a mentor based monitoring for the entire life cycle of the examination.

That is the number of hours you have in a year.
All we need is five hundred hours*

*Including all the time you may spend at our classes, prelims and mains test series and answer writing with us.

Our experience of Mains Guidance Program (MGP)

We started with almost a secret initiative in 2016. The Mains Guidance Program.

And out of the five lakh odd users of ForumIAS, 86 people decided to join us, most of them who knew us personally, as individuals.

In 2016, our goal was clear, we wanted to solve the problem of those who were consistently stuck in a loop of low Mains Score, and were unable to get an Interview call or a good rank. At least.

And their GS Marks should be such that they should be within safe limits to make it to the final list.

Since we did not have a physical infrastructure in place, we were unable to provide any further support for the Interview.

(Though we did try to do some one –on-one’s and did an session on Interview Preparation too)

Except 13 candidates, every single candidate from MGP 2016 got an Interview call.

And 43 out of 86, were those who had never gotten an interview call before. They were all deserving candidates, who had messed up / disrupted preparation over the years, and just needed little guidance. Realignment.

Consequently the lowest marks in GS for MGP Candidates was 390, (with one exception), and the highest known marks was 464. The average was around 438, which is a little higher than the average marks of Mains 2016 – which we believe is around 400. Anything less than 400 is poor marks.

The MGP – What it did, and what it did not.

The MGP helped students do these things

- Improve answer writing structure and content orientation to improve score in General Studies.
- Take care of preparation lacuna / dilemmas by active Mentor Support.

However, we believe, blindly joining MGP or any Test Series does not help. Even with MGP, those students benefitted the most, who wrote Tests on time, and actively worked on the feedback, and had done some basic studies
Also, we are more keen on solving problems for which no option is available, like improving Rank, or clearing the exam for someone who has never cleared Prelims or Mains before.

Now the big question.

Why people fail to clear Prelims and Mains despite hard work?

There are several reasons for it.

There are four kinds of students whom we met, and who were unable to perform despite writing Tests.

A. The Self Study people, who had no structure or plan in their preparation and only study what was asked in Test Series/ Answer Writing Initiatives.

B. The ones who had attended coaching like half a decade ago, and have antiquated notes that are bulky and not worth revising.

C. The ones who joined a bad coaching and did not attend classes

D. The ones who joined a good coaching, but did not make notes or lacked the maturity to take classes with all sincerity.

Self-study has been the best way to prepare for the Civil Services Examination.

We built ForumIAS as a community on the idea that people should collaborate, cooperate and prepare. It worked as every year more than 500+ selected aspirants are ForumIAS Members.

However, with the onslaught of answer writing websites, and our own initiatives, it became a fashion, to just practice questions and answers.

And not study as per the syllabus.

This leads to the next set of problem

1 Fragmented Preparation

A large number of candidates we meet today, are hard-working, and very capable.

But very mis-guided, and dis-oriented.

They have studied a lot of things, but none of which is consolidated. This is known as the problem of fragmented studies.

They followed online website and ONLY know what is (a) on the website and or / (b) questions asked on website. They have never taken the syllabus, studied it bare bone and prepared every topic, making notes on them.

#2 The frog in the well syndrome

Self-study works best when you have

- a good peer group (not friends!), or
- a human or non-human mentor, and
- rock solid faith in the mentor and your plan, and
- Ability to stick to a plan for long.

There are two problems with being a frog in the well. First, you are a frog. And second, you have no idea of the level of competition outside the well.

#3 Gaping Holes in Knowledge Base

This, we believe is the biggest problem.

For example, a self-study candidate, who has not taken any coaching , knows Citizen Charter, because

- It was term mentioned in the syllabus
- ForumIAS or any other website they asked a question on it
- There was an article on it, or

But they do not know “Sevottam Model” because

- The term was not mentioned in the syllabus
- The website/ test series they followed did not ask a question on it
- They did not know that they should know it.

Similarly, while studying Post Independence History, they know Integration of Tribal States, but do not know Tribal Panchsheel because

- It was not mentioned in syllabus
- The website they followed did not cover it
- They did not know that it should be known.

Take concepts like Seven Sins by Gandhi, Gujaral Doctrine, Ambedkar-Gandhi Controversy, or Tagore Gandhi Controversy. These are concepts that UPSC has asked questions on (except the last one, which is expected).

But most candidates are not

- Aware of these topics
- Aware of the fact they need to know these things.

The biggest problem with fragmented preparation is that are large gaping holes in your preparation, you are unaware of. Some people try to solve this problem by writing 3-4 Mains over the years, without seeking / getting meaningful guidance, and adding content each year. This is however, not the best way to do it.

With proper guidance and study material, this deficiency in your preparation can be eliminated.

#4 The more success eludes you, the more chances of false notions and beliefs you are likely to have.

The No-Notes-No-Study-Plan-No-Peer-Group and did-not-clear-prelims syndrome.

The phenomenon of candidates who have not been able to clear prelims in their second, third, fourth attempt happens because not clearing Prelims is a self-perpetuating phenomenon.

You may not clear Prelims 2018, because you did not clear it in 2017.

Here is how it works.

STEP 1: You did not clear prelims. Immediately you lose all friends that cleared Prelims and are writing Mains. Thus a good peer is lost.
(We know the pain)

STEP 2: You immediately promise yourself that you will not only crack Prelims next year, but also top the exam.

STEP 3: You do not exactly plan what you will do round the year, thus have passion, but no plan.

STEP 4 : You study religiously for Prelims immediately after the Prelims Results and exhaust and peak in the three months of September-Oct-Nov.

STEP 5: You are bored and tired, and by December-January, you start studying Optionals, which goes on till Feb

STEP 6: You realize Prelims is close, and you have only two months. You do your best (or give up), but you have already missed the bus.

STEP 7 : You repeat STEP 1, with more promises, and lesser enthusiasm.

#5 Breaking the vicious cycle

To break this vicious cycle, you need to know when to prepare for Mains, and when to prepare for Prelims.

You also need to ensure that you peak at the right time. For example, answer writing for Mains should not peak before the Mains exam.

Similarly, the habit of solving MCQs also should not peak this year itself.

You must peak at the right time.

We plan to help break this vicious cycle through our ForumIAS Offline 2018 Total program.

#6 Building the Knowledge Base

Since Prajit¹ was practising Mains Marathon in 2016 and secured a rank 87, you must not repeat what he did.

You need to build your knowledge base first.

And much like building Rome, It does not happen in a day. It takes time, but if you work hard enough, with some consistency, you will get there.

1. Prajit Nair, IAS Rank 87, <http://blog.forumias.com/ias-rank-87-prajit-nair-kerala-3rd-attempt-detailed-strategy-with-notes-handouts/>

#7 But I know everything

“I have been preparing for UPSC for past 3 years, and I know everything. I have made my own notes, read every book, and have taken so many classes.”

First, None of us can claim to know everything.

Second, you have no way of knowing what you do not know, unless you write the exam. Because if you knew what you do not know, you would study that topic and know it.

#8 But isn't UPSC syllabus infinite? How am I supposed to know everything?

We have two things to tell you.

First, there is a locus to the UPSC Syllabus. By which we mean there is a minimum outer boundary to the syllabus.

Second, the UPSC syllabus is not infinite. It is merely porous.

There is a difference.

And you must prepare for it according to the syllabus.

You need not know everything, but you do need to have a solid knowledge base.

We'll help you build that too.

#9 Why it becomes difficult to break the vicious cycle as your number of attempts increase?

The biggest problem that we at ForumIAS Offline, faced was that we had students who had faced some failure in their previous attempts. The problem with failure is that it reinforces wrong notions more deeply in your mind. For example,

1. I only solved 2000 questions this year. I must solve 10,000 MCQs this year.
2. There is no use studying, you must only practice.
3. No one can teach you anything.
4. Luck, and not hard work is how you crack CSE.

Candidates with high number of attempts(2+), usually face the below problems

- They no longer have the same level of energy, motivation, or peer group to study.
- They have studied something of everything, but full of nothing, so reading the same books/ taking same classes irritates them.
- They do not make new notes at all, and are stuck with notes which are 2-3 years old when they first started preparation.
- They have reached a knowledge plateau – with each passing day, they learn nothing new.

What we plan to do for 2018 to solve this problem ?

There are two components of Civil Services preparation

- A minimum Knowledge Base for preparation
- Problem Solving Skills and,
- Answer Writing Practice

While the MGP provides the near-perfect solution for developing answer writing Skills and the Prelims Test Series helps develop problem solving skills, we plan to expand the scope of our Guidance Program to do a) Developing the Knowledge Base.

3 of our regular Offline Students from Prelims Test Series and 13 out of 86 MGP students did not make it to the next level last year.

We decided to re-work our programs to improve our success ratio.

And here it is.

COMPONENTS

The ForumIAS 2018 Offline Comprehensive program augments the MGP and the Prelims Test Series adding dedicated classes to it and includes the following

A. Mains Guidance Program (MGP)

The goal of this program is to ensure improvement in structure of answers to optimise your Mains score based on your existing knowledge. Improvements backed by guidance from Mentors over a period of time and with each test, has helped candidates improve score and get a rank as well as upgrade their service to Indian Administrative Service and Indian Foreign Service. MGP Students have topped the exam before. MGP Students include Mittali Sethi (AIR 56), Prajit Nair (AIR 87), Abhishek Surana (IAS Rank 250 and IFoS Rank 2)

B. CURRENT AFFAIRS CLASSES (CA)

The goal of these classes will be to cover the entire spectrum of Current Affairs from various sources and make sure that you are not lagging behind in coverage of the Newspaper. Thus, regular classes will help the candidates in

- Identify relevant topics for exam point of view

- Help prevent any accumulation of Current Affairs backlog before Prelims
- For first timers, it will help develop a historic background of the current events
- Answer writing sessions will be included in the class itself to improve your ability to reproduce what you know

These classes will be held weekly, helping you cover weekly newspaper, with an analytical approach. Before the Prelims Examination, these classes will be held daily and help you finish off all the relevant facts for Prelims.

Similarly after the Prelims, these classes will be held weekly and again, before the Mains Examination, they will be held daily to consolidate your current affairs preparation.

C. PRELIMS TEST SERIES (PTS)

The Prelims Test Series 2018 will have 20 GS Tests and 4 CSAT Tests. Apart from this there will be 14 Mini Tests (ONLINE ONLY) for your practise on small bits of the syllabus.

Past students who were a part of this Test Series includes Saumya Pandey (Online Student, Rank 4), Himanshu Jain (Offline Student, AIR 44) and Abhishek Chaurasiya (Offline Student, IAS Rank 72 and IFoS Rank 5)

Out of the 110 people selected for Indian Forest Service last year, (where the cut off for Prelims is higher than Civil Services Examination), 30+ are known students of ForumIAS. This includes ranks 2, 5 and 15.

We do not spoonfeed and pamper you with high marks, but we make you solve problem closest to UPSC standards. And that's a promise.

D. CONTENT BUILDING PROGRAM – Classes + TESTS

This is the missing link in Civils Preparation.

The Content Building Program (Classes + Test) will have aid the candidate in building core concepts and make comprehensive notes on all topics of the syllabus covering both the static parts of all 4 GS Papers.

The goal of CBP is to ensure that candidates do not have content inadequacy in their preparation. It will ensure complete coverage of the syllabus through 40 Tests aided by Discussion Classes.

Thus, the CBP compliments the MGP, and is recommended for candidates

- who are writing their first attempt, or
- Those candidates who have not been able to clear Prelims and/or Mains before despite multiple attempts.
- Candidates who have done fragmented preparation and require consolidation of syllabus

WHAT YOU GET

1. Prelims Test Series – 20 GS Tests + 14 Sectional Mini Tests (Online Only) + 4 CSAT Tests. = 38 TESTS
2. CONTENT BUILDING PROGRAM (TEST) – 40 TESTS – 7 QUESTION /1 HOUR = 40 TESTS
3. MAINS GUIDANCE PROGRAM – 40 GS (20 HALF LENGTH TESTS + 20 FULL TEST) + 5 ESSAYS = 45 TESTS
4. MAINS GUIDANCE PROGRAM – TEST DISCUSSION CLASSES = 45 CLASSES
4. CONTENT BUILDING PROGRAM (CLASSES) = 76 CLASSES
5. CURRENT AFFAIRS CLASSES +ANSWER WRITING = 55 CLASSES

TOTAL = 123 TESTS + 176 CLASSES

NOTE : The Mains Examination is scheduled on October 1st, 2018. The Program Calendar is designed in a manner to help you cover maximum static syllabus in in the next 3 months and focus exclusively focus on Prelims post December – which we believe is an ideal time to begin Prelims Preparation.

What problem are we trying to solve?

Problem solving is at the heart of everything we do at ForumIAS.

At ForumIAS Offline Center in New Delhi, we had a huge learning experience.

There were two kinds of candidates, the ones who were very well informed, very methodical in their preparation and had the advantage of a good peer group that kept them well informed.

And the second, who were ill informed, had done half of almost everything – Test Series, Classes at coaching centers, and Answer Writing Practise at popular websites – including ours.

However, they had little real guidance, and had done several classes too, none of which reflected in either their knowledge base, or the answers they wrote with us.

We are trying to solve the problem of lack of quality content, fragmented preparation and lack of consolidation in preparation – problems that confronts a large number of aspirants. Problems that are not easy to solve.

This program is designed to help a beginner take the baby steps to Civil Services Preparation, in a wholistic manner.

It is also designed to help people who have been unable to crack Prelims or Mains before, to consolidate their preparation and take a fresh look at their preparation. And make it in 2018.

On Monday, 1 October 2018, Write Civil Services Mains Examination 2018. Wish you good luck ☺

*When both CBP(Test) and CBP (Class) are on the same day, the Test will be conducted in the hour immediately before the class.

*Adequate breaks have been provided for holidays so that candidates do not miss any class. The Schedule is fixed unless demanded by extraordinary circumstances.

* Sundays has been kept free so that you can take some breaks initially, however as the Prelims approaches , Sundays have been kept for Prelims Test Series

* The syllabus has been divided in manner that by December most of Mains related syllabus is covered and after December, all Prelims oriented syllabus is covered.

* Some candidates may want to study only and only for Prelims from now onwards itself, however, we recommend that you prepare a bit for Mains by December, at least the static part, and make notes , and study only for Prelims / Prelims related syllabus post December.
