POLITY AND GOVERNANCE

1. Procedure to remove the Chief Justice of India

Constitution

Article 124(4) of the Constitution lays down the procedure for removal of a judge of the Supreme Court, including the CJI, who can be impeached on grounds of “misbehaviour or incapacity”.

HOW IS A JUDGE REMOVED?

1. Notice for removal can be presented in both Houses of Parliament. In Lok Sabha, it has to be signed by at least 100 MPs. In Rajya Sabha, a minimum of 50 MPs have to sign it.

2. If motion is admitted, a 3-member panel is set up to probe allegations. The panel must include an SC Judge, a Chief Justice of any high court, and a distinguished jurist, to be nominated by the Speaker/Vice-President.

3. The panel submits its report to the Speaker/Vice-President, and it is shared with the other House. If the report establishes “misbehaviour” or “incapacity” then both Houses need to pass an “address to the President” that the judge be removed.

4. The “address” has to be passed by 2/3s of the members present and voting in each House, and the number should be more than the halfway mark for each House.

5. Once passed by both, the President can remove the judge through a Prez Order.

PAST CASES | Removal cases have previously been initiated against 6 judges, though never against a CJI. None of the judges was formally ousted, though two — P D Dinakaran and Soumitra Sen — resigned before they could be removed. | Details, P 14
